SECTION HALL OF FAME

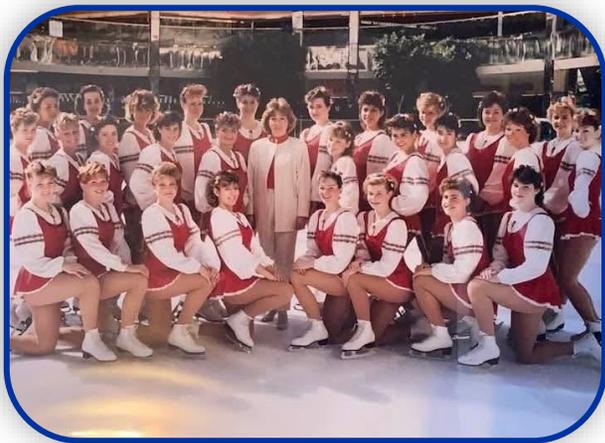

1986 EDMONTON SENIOR PRECISION TEAM

ATHLETE INDUCTEE

The 1986 Edmonton Senior Precision Team remains one of the most iconic and successful synchronized skating teams in the history of Skate AB I N T I NU. Formed in 1983, this pioneering group captured gold at the inaugural Canadian Junior Championships and quickly rose through the ranks — claiming bronze in 1984, silver in 1985, and the national Senior title in 1986. They remain the only team from Western Canada to ever win a Senior national title and the only one west of Ontario to make the National Team.

Under the guidance of coach Sue Cutmore and team leader Pam Chen, the skaters overcame geographic and logistical challenges, with athletes traveling from across Alberta to train. Their performances captivated audiences at major events such as Edmonton Oilers games, the 1983 Universiade, and the opening of the Ice Palace at West Edmonton Mall. After their 1986 championship win, they were selected to perform at the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the 1988 Olympic Winter Games in Calgary.

In 1977, she founded the province's first junior precision team at Gateway Figure Skating Club and went on to coach the nationally renowned 1986 Edmonton Senior Precision Team, building it over nine years into a two-time national champion.

With a background in singles and pairs, Sue quickly became an expert in the emerging discipline of synchro, crafting seamless, theme-based programs long before they became standard. Her choreography, teaching precision, and leadership inspired countless skaters and coaches across Canada and internationally.

She authored Skate Canada's official chapter on How to Manage a Team, and her expertise led to her involvement in major events at every level, including as Chair of the Canadian Synchronized Skating Championships, Technical Director for the Four Continents Cup, and On-Ice Activities Lead for the 1996 World Figure Skating Championships in Edmonton.

Pam's visionary leadership helped expand synchronized skating opportunities across Alberta. She founded multiple successful teams—from elite Senior and Masters teams to Novice and Adult teams like the "Rockerettes"—and ensured each was equipped to compete and thrive. Her commitment also led to the ESSC becoming one of the first synchro-only clubs in Canada to gain full Skate Canada membership.
